'Home at Last' in Milton

For Nancy, moving into Heathwood Homes' Traditions community in Milton truly was coming Home at Last.

She grew up in this friendly town until a few years ago, when she and her husband Kin took up residence in Oakville. They missed living close to their family and friends in Milton, and Nancy says, "As soon as we found out Heathwood Homes was going to build Traditions, we decided to move back. In fact, we were the very first purchasers in this community."

Traditions is Heathwood's collection of captivating townhomes, semi-detached homes and detached homes on 36', 43' and 49' lots set against the backdrop of the Niagara Escarpment, within walking distance to downtown Milton. Kin and Nancy appreciate living in this quiet neighbourhood that is so close to golf courses and numerous other attractions and amenities.

Traditions itself encompasses a woodlot, park, walking trails, bicycle paths and village square.

"We are on a fantastic lot with views of the Escarpment and a field at the back," says Kin, a family physician in the area. "Our home has a large porch, which is like extended living quarters to us. We can sit in the front or back to enjoy the outdoors. We have the beauty of the country and we are close to town. It's ideal."

Kin and Nancy moved into their five-bedroom Bronte (Elevation B) home in September. Offering over 3,000 square feet of well-designed living space, the home provides them with plenty of room for entertaining and comfortable living.

"We were attracted to this design because of the winding staircase and the open-concept family room and kitchen," Nancy says. "Upstairs, there are large windows facing the back with views of the trees and a stream. We can see this scenery from our master bedroom, which is beautiful."

Nancy and Kin have decorated the entire home, which is receiving rave reviews from visitors.

"We chose crown moldings throughout the home, and our dark seven-inch plank wood floors look stunning," Nancy says. "Our tastes run to the traditional, yet we like comfortable surroundings. With us, everything is about usability and flow and has to be pleasant to the eye."

They chose a rich colour palette that includes reds, greens, creams and golds, and they are happy with the result. "Everyone who comes in compliments us on the decor, particularly the floors."

Since purchasing their home at Traditions, Kin and Nancy have convinced some family and friends to become their neighbours, including one of their sons and his wife and four children, who live within walking distance. They also have a married daughter who lives in Milton and has one child, plus a son in Toronto.

"It's nice knowing so many people in the community," Nancy says. The couple has also been pleased with Heathwood's after-sales service. "Heathwood has a good group of people who are pleasant and supportive. We like the slogan 'Home at Last' because that's how we feel here."

Many homes at Traditions are under construction or completed, so quick move-ins are available.

You can also tour four striking model homes appointed by Bryon Patton and Associates to see firsthand the many fine standard features and upgrades Heathwood offers.

Plus, Heathwood's proven track record in the industry offers peace of mind. Over 40 years ago, President Hugh Heron began building new homes with a commitment to providing quality, value and top-
